

Entrustable Professional Activities

Entrustable Professional Activities, abbreviated as EPAs, are observable tasks that an individual can be trusted to perform in a given patient care context, once sufficient competence has been demonstrated. EPAs and competency training are integral components of our curriculum, providing students with the tools they need for successfully entering residency.