

Personal Travel Policy Addendum-Pennsylvania

Effective October 28, 2020, nonessential travel from Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Delaware also is highly discouraged. Unlike the other states on the travel advisory, quarantine is not required. Governor Murphy has indicated that “due to the interconnected nature of this region”, a 14-day quarantine for travel from these states is not reasonable.

Therefore, employees and patients residing in Pennsylvania may continue to work or come for treatment as usual. NJ residents traveling to Pennsylvania are encouraged to be diligent in the use of masks, distancing and hygiene. PA was added to the list due to the increase in documented COVID cases. Please exercise caution for your safety and the safety of others. Remain careful even when in the company of family and friends.
